LABOUR CONDITIONS (CONTRACTS, WORKING HOURS) (1 RISK)

The five-yearly European Working Conditions Survey shows working conditions in the European Union focused on three factors: exposure to posture-related and biological, chemical and environmental risks, training offered by the employer and working hours per week. France scores on a scale of 100 on posture-related risks 29, on biological and chemical risks 12 and on environmental risks 19. There is an average working week of 38 hours and 42% of the working population has access to training offered by the employer.
